Issue #3, 15/2/19

(Guard quarters, second floor)

Today we look at this awesome jail built by Colonel_Steiner and the_dude_777.

Opening Words

This fabulous-looking jail that you wouldn't want to escape from, built by Colonel_Steiner and the_dude_777, is a masterpiece of stone brick. Sporting a gym, closed minecart system, and much more, the latter came on for an interview.

Q: What tips do you have for newbie builders?

A: I just wanna say this: Start with a black canvas and keep painting till your happy, even if it takes months. Keep going till your masterpiece is complete.

Q: What exactly have you built?

A: Well, we have two prisons. We built one till it became bigger and bigger till it was massive.

Q: Floors of the prison?

Floor 1 has cells and the cafeteria. Second floor houses a lost and found, guard sleeping quarters, and the infirmary. Third floor has tons of cells and bathrooms. Fourth floor consists of super strong cells, a snack station, library and generator.

Greatman has also made a comic strip for the paper. It's a great strip! Short and Sweet!

Q: Tell me more about the minecart system.

A: Originally intended for better transportation, we closed it to prevent criminals from escaping. A newer and safer model is coming soon.

Q: Why did you decide to build the jail?

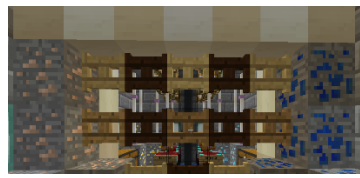

A: It's supposed to be a roleplay for friends but CS and I went all out and made it massive.

Q: How old is the jail?

A: 3 weeks old. Two and a half weeks to make it. Since then we have made little renovations.

Here's some pictures of the fabulous jail.
